

Lord, Here We Are

Text by Rev. Michelle Henrichs

Music by Heidi Surprenant

♩.=54

Lord, here we are, a new day is dawn-ing, — chang-es that we could
For those with-out in-sur-ance or sav-ings, the lone-ly, the home-less,
From near and far, we gath-er to-geth-er, — each of us off-ering

4 not have fore-fold. We find our-selves a-lone in our hous-es, — those in great need, for doc-tors, nurs-es and all who tend us, the 4 peace, hope, and love. Though we are sep-ar-at-ed in bod-y, —

7 pray-ing for sick-ness not to take hold. Lord, here we are, the 7 fear-ful and tired and wear-y who plead. Lord, hear the cries of we are made one through your grace and love. Lord, here we are: U-

©Text: Michelle Henrichs, 2020

Music: Heidi Surprenant, 2020

Permission is granted for use (performance, printing, projection, and streaming) in religious settings with appropriate attribution.

10

well and the sick - ly. Lord, here we are, the aged and the young.
all of your peop - le. Lord, grant us faith and strength to be brave.
nite us to - geth - er. Lord, here we are, in wor - ship and prayer.

13

Lord, here we are, please hold us to - geth - er. May we find fel - low - ship Though we're a - part, our voic - es are join - ing. We call out now to the Lord, here we are, for we are your Bod - y. Bind us to - geth - er wher -

16

though we're far - flung. — God who can save. — ev - er we are. —